CARD--We desire through the columns of the MONITOR to thank the neighbors and friends who were so kind and helpful to us during the sickness, death and burial of our dear wife, mother and sister.

FRANK SHERBURNE AND FAMILY, Mrs. S. W. BLISS, Mrs. S. E. CLOUGH.

Joseph Barton has the job to put in the stone work for the new bridge. It will require 600 yards of granite. Mr. Barton split off one block of granite 55 feet long 12 feet thick at the upper side and 18 feet at the lower side. This block will make about a third enough stone to make the buttments of the bridge.

The wedding of Rev. I. P. Chase and Mrs. M. A. Bailey was solemnized at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon, by Rev. S. G. Lewis. Mr. Chase is at present located in Plainfield. Mrs. Bailey has been an efficient teacher in the public schools several years past; it is with regret that the scholars part with her. Hear your congratulations go with Mr. and Mrs. Chase.

Nothing chronicles the growth of a town quicker than the revenues of its post-office; such being the fact Barton Landing may well feel proud of the record the office of this place has made. Only a few years ago this office was made a salaried government office, and now with the annual adjustment of salaries of postmasters Mr. Webster will receive $100 additional salary which he richly deserves.

The wedding of Miss Stella Willey of this place and E. H. Milliken of Portland Me., took place at the residence of O. G. Page last Tuesday evening. The bride was attended by Miss Lena Willey, the best man was Harry Nutting of Newport. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Lyman of the Congregational church. The wedding march was played by Miss Sadie Lothrop. There were a large number of presents, both useful and ornamental.

Mr. and Mrs. Milliken will reside at Portland Maine.

Ora Badger, oldest son of the late Harrison Badger, died at the hospital at Hanover Saturday morning. The young man had been ailing for several weeks and on Thursday it was thought best to have an operation, and he was taken to Hanover, where the operation was performed, but the young man died not long after. The deceased was about eighteen years old. The body was brought here and the funeral held Sunday from the house, Rev. J. B. Lyman officiating, and the remains interred in the cemetery here. Much sympathy is felt for the family.

An elaborate program for the Fourth of July celebration has been arranged for tomorrow. There will be a parade of antiquities and horrors in the morning at 9 o'clock. This will be followed by a ball game between the Island Pond and Barton Landing will be Winchester and Searles, while Gildea and Bishop will officiate for Island Pond. There will be a tug of war between the strong men of two towns. The Willoughby Sunday school association will have a picnic at noon. In the afternoon will be a number of races and athletic sports which will be followed by another game of base ball between Barton Landing and Island Pond. In the evening there will be a dance in the new Opera House and grand display of fireworks.
